Reflection: This week I've found it extremely difficult to think what to say about our readings as the horrific images of the events over the pond have been thrown at me. Not really finding anything to say, or used all the possible words already in my sermon, I am grateful for these words someone else wrote.

When the Father laughs at the Son and the Son laughs back at the Father, that laughter gives pleasure, that pleasure gives joy, that joy gives love, and the love is the Holy Spirit. —Meister Eckhart, German mystic (1260-1328)

The Holy Spirit, which is the love of God, in the hearts of believers makes them, makes us, aware of our dignity as children of God, called and enabled to live according to the pattern of the inner life of God himself, as revealed by Jesus, and continued in the mystery of the Church. That same Holy Spirit makes us aware of the dignity of all people as children of God. In the week when we have seen protests around the world at the death of George Floyd, let us remember that the same Holy Spirit makes us aware of the dignity of all people as children of God; there is not one person who is less valuable to God than another person. If we are to live out our faith as Christians, then we will work to ensure that in our own families, in our own communities, and in our own areas of influence in the wider world, racism and abuse of power is always identified and addressed.

*Holy God,
faithful and unchanging:
enlarge our minds
with the knowledge of our truth,
and draw us more deeply into the mystery of your love,
that we may truly worship you,
Father, Son and Holy Spirit,
one God, now and for ever.
Amen.*
